GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND

Contributed by Miss ELIZABETH FRENCH, and communicated by the Committee on "English" Research

JOSSELYN

The following records establish the English ancestry of John Jesselyn, the well-known traveller and author of "New-England's Rarities Discovered" and "An Account of Two Voyages to New-England," of his brother, Henry Josselyn, Deputy-Governor of Maine under the Gorges Patent, and of their distant kinsman, Thomas Josselyn of Hingham and Lancaster, Mass. From this Thomas Josselyn probably all of the surname in America derive their descent. The records will be followed by a pedigree exhibiting in genealogical form the facts which they disclose.

The Will of JOHN JOSELYN of High Rodyng, co. Essex, Esq., 1 August 1524. My manor farm once called Davyes and now Newhall Josselyn in High Roding. A tenement called Bacon's. Tenements in Canfield and Much Dunmowe called Mayes and Sanders. Land called Bradbuchopes in Aythorp Rodyng held of the Earl of Essex as of his manor of Aythorp Rodyng. Land called Churchechope in Aythorpe Rodyng. Manor of Merks in Tyltingham. Manors of Shyngilhalle alias Olives and Medling in Great Dunmewe. Lands in Hatfield called Philpotts and Roberds. An annuity out of lands in Little Canfield called Hodyns. Lands in Shellowe Bowells. Lands in Great Dunmowe called Wallmans. Manors of Keers and Highles in co. Essex. Manor of Hidehall, co. Herts. Messuage and lands called Fitz Johns in Moch Waltham and Wrights in Litell Halyngbury. My lease for nineteen years of the manor of Much Canfield. My lands to my heirs male and the heirs male of their bodies lawfully begotten, and for lack of such to my brother Rauffe Josselyn's heirs male and the heirs male of their bodies lawfully begotten, and for lack of such to my cousin Rauffe Josselyn, son of John Josselyn late of Sheryng, and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, and for lack of such to his brother Philip and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, and for lack of such to Geffry, brother of the said Rauffe and Philip, and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, and for lack of such to my right heirs. Phillip my now wife. Ceeelia my late wife. The latter's former marriage to John, son of John Fitzherbert. My son Thomas, under twenty-four. His marriage to Dorothy Gate, daughter of Geffry Gate, Knight, and an indenture regarding the same dated 18 June, 16 Henry VIII [1524]. My daughter Anne unmarried. My daughter Jane and her husband. After my wife's death obits are to be said for the repose of the souls of myself, my wives, Ceeelia and Phillip, my children, my father and mother, Thomas Bradbury, George Bradbury, Robert Fitzherbert and Elizabeth his wife, Thomas Raine, and all Christian souls. Brother-in-law Thomas Bradbury, late citizen and alderman of London. My cousins George Josselyn, Gabriel Josselyn, and John Josselyn. Provision is made for George Josselyn until he have a benefice. Sir Roger Wentworth, Kt., John, his son, and his wife Anne, my cousin. Proved 13 February 1525 [1525/6]. (P. C. C., Perch, 3.)

The Will of RAUFFE JOSELYN of Moche Canfeld [co. Essex], the last day of May 1525. To be buried in the church of St. Saviour of Canfeld. To the mother church of St. Paule in London 12d. To the high altar of the church of Canfeld, for my tythes forgot, a "blak howyd cow." My wife at her leisure to deliver a bullock to keep a light before [the image of] St. Nicholas. To every one of my godechildren 4d. To the reparation of the church of Canfeld 40s. To my wife Elizabeth all my lands both freehold and copyhold, by licence of the lord [of the manor], for life; and at her decease my freehold land to Philyppe my son, with the tenement called Caldres and Cokmemys; and if he die without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, then the freehold land and tenements to Rauffe my son; and if he die without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, then to my son Nicholas; and if he die without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, then to my two daughters Agnes and Denyse and to their heirs, and for lack of such to the next of my blood. To my son Rauffe, his heirs and assigns, my tenement in Canfeild called "louedens." To my sons Philyppe and Rauffe £3. 6s. 8d. apiece. To my son Nicholas £3. 6s. 8d. at the age of twenty-one years. The Will of RALPH JOSSELYN of Roxwell, co. Essex, yeoman, dated 4 August 1626 and signed 3 September 1628. To my wife Dorothy an annuity of £20 for life, in recompence of her dower rights in all my lands and tenements. Whereas I desire that my wife shall dwell and abide with my two sons Ralph Josselyn and Symen Josselyn in the house wherein I now dwell, she shall have convenient lodging there, with free ingress and egress of the said house or farm called Bollinghatch, with sufficient meat, drink, apparel, washing, and attendance, to be provided by my executors, and they shall pay to my said wife 25s. quarterly during her life, in recompence of both said £20 and her dower. And if she shall leave my sons' house, then they shall pay her the said £20 a year and also give to her for her own use six pairs of the best sheets, two dozen napkins, three tablecloths, and four towels. To my brother Symon Josselyn, in recompence of his brotherly love toward me and his care of my children, an annuity of £25 for life and the use of the upper chamber over the parlor of my said house wherein he now lives, with the bedding in the same and all necessary implements of household. My executors shall allow him for life the use of one good gelding or nag with a saddle and furniture. Whereas I have given to my eldest son John his portion of my lands and other estate amounting to £800, nevertheless my executors shall pay him £10 within ten years after the decease of my wife and my brother Symon, if he be living, and if he be dead, then the £10 shall be paid to his son Ralph Josselyn. To my son Thomas and my daughter Mary £5 apiece, to be paid within the said ten years. To my daughter Anna £10, to be paid within the said ten years. To my son Richard £200 for his portion and in recompence of £15 given him by the will of my brother Thomas Josselyn, deceased, to be paid within one year after the death of my wife and my brother Symon; and if they both die before me, then it shall be paid within four years after my decease. And if my executors make default of payment of the said £200, then I bequeath to my son Richard 20 acres of land called Highfield, in Roxwell, and my said farm called Bollinghatch, to him and his heirs for ever, with a foot-, horse-, and cartway, for himself, servants, etc., through a field called the field before the gate, parcel of said farm, to be directly leading next the hedge against Nyne acres, parcel of the lands called Foulchers, from the King's highway into said Highfield. To my son Joseph £160 for his portion and in recompence of £15 given him by the will of my brother Thomas Josselyn, deceased, to be paid within two years after the death of my wife and my brother Symon; or if they both die before me, then within five years after my decease. And if my executors make default of payment of the said £160, then I bequeath to my son Joseph and to his heirs for ever all those parcels of wood and land called Woodfields, Spicers Crofts, and Bollinghatch Grove, with a part of Motts-hott next to the lane leading to Funbridge end, and to be divided at the path leading from Woodfield to Fowchters, all of which said closes before devised to my son Joseph are parcels of my said farm. To my son Nathaniell £100 for his portion and in recompence of £15 given him by the will of my brother Thomas Josselyn, deceased, to be paid within three years after the decease of my wife and my brother Symon; and if they be h die before me, then to be paid within six years after my decease. My executors shall allow my daughter Elizabeth sufficient meat, drink, and apparel, and all other things necessary for her maintenance for life; and if she shall survive them, they shall provide for her maintenance during her life. To the poor of Roxwell 20s. The rest of my goods unbequeathed and all my said farms, lands, etc., called Bollinghatch, with all the houses, edifices, buildings, yards, gardens, orchards, etc., belonging thereto, and all closes, pastures, and wood growing belonging thereto, and all the ways, waters, etc., lying in Newland, Roxwell, and Writtle, or elsewhere in the said County of Essex, to my sons Ralph Josselyn and Symon Josselyn and the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten. If my son Symon die without issue, reversion of his portion to my son Nathaniell and his heirs for ever; and if my son Ralph die without issue, reversion of his portion to my son John and his heirs for ever. If my sons Ralph and Symon do not pay the said sums to my sons Richard and Joseph, then this devise to my sons Ralph and Symon of the said several closes to my said sons Richard and Joseph provisionally formerly devised shall cease, and the said closes shall remain to Richard and Joseph according to my former devise. Executors:

my sons Ralph Josselyn and Symon Josselyn. Overseer: my son Nathaniell Josselyn. Witnesses: Ma: Bridges, William Rochell his mark, William Smith, and Cha: Smyth. Proved 4 May 1632 by Ralph Joslin and Simon Joslin, sons of the deceased. (P. C. C., Audley, 57.)

The Will of JOSEPH JOSLYN of Cranham, co. Essex, yeoman, 7 November 1642. Whereas Ralph Joslyn of Roxwell, co. Essex, yeoman, my late father, did give unto his son Symon Joslyn, my elder brother, four parcels of land in Roxwell, called Woodfield, the Wood, Spicer's Croft, and the lower end of the Moateshott, upon condition that he, the said Symon Joslyn, my brother, should pay to me £160, I do give said sum (if it be paid by said Symon) as follows: to Richard Joslyn, my brother, £40; to Nathaniel Joslyn and Thomas Joslyn, my brothers, £10 apiece; to Daniel Hudson, my brother-in-law, £20; to Anne Hudson, my sister, £5 and also £15 more part of the said £160 which was given to me by Thomas Joslyn, my uncle, and paid into the hands of Ralph Joslyn, my father; to my cousin Mary Gill, wife of Thomas Gill of Cranham, £20 of the said £160; to the four children of Daniel Hudson, namely, Daniel, Symon, William, and Elizabeth, £5 apiece; to John Hudson, my cousin, son of Daniel Hudson, £10; to the three daughters of John Joslyn, my eldest brother, £5, namely, to Dorothy and Anne 40s. apiece and to Mary 20s; to John Owting of Cranham £4 and a pair of sheets. If my brother Symon shall not pay the said sum of £160, according to Ralph Joslyn's will, then Richard Joslyn and Daniel Hudson, my brothers, shall enter upon said four parcels of land and hold them for ever, paying my legacies. To Ralph and Symon Joslyn, my brothers, a pair of gloves apiece. Executors and residuary legatees: Richard Joslyn and Daniel Hudson. Witnesses. Henry Nevill and George Stondon. Proved 6 December 1645 by the executors named in the will. (Archdeaconry of Essex [Somerset House], Register Whitehead, fo. 161.)

The Will of SYMON JOCELINE of East Hanningfield, co. Essex, yeoman, 28 September 1649. To my eldest son Symon Joceline my messuage called Bouleinghatch, lying in the parishes of Roxwell and Newland Fee, co. Essex, and lands called Flax Hoppett or Willow Lease, land called Brickhill Mead, Bedhams, Asponfield, Chalke, Pearcecroft, Leather Leise, Hoppet, and also so much of Moateshott whereof no use is limited by deed of the division of two parts of the farm called Bouleinghatch made between Ralph Joceline of Roxwell, co. Essex, yeoman, Thomas Joceline of Barham, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and Rebecca his wife, and me, the said Symon Joceline, on the one part, and Aron Renton and John Parey of London, gent., on the other part. Also to my son Symon part of the mansion house purchased by me from my brother Ralph Jocelyne and the land called Hoppett Croftes and so much of Moateshott whereof no use is limited by deed to my brother Joseph Joceline. To my son Peter Joceline lands in Rettingdon, co. Essex. To my three daughters Anne, Sarah, and Grace Joceline £100 apiece as well as the following sums bequeathed to them and my son Peter by my late father-in-law Peter Ayecroft, viz: to Peter £20 at twenty-one, £20 to Anne at twenty-one or marriage, and to Sarah and Grace £5 apiece at twenty-one or marriage. My said daughters to be paid my £100 at the same times. If any of my daughters die, the survivors to be her heirs. To the poor of Roxwell 15s. Executor and residuary legatee: my son Symon Joceline. Overseers: my brothers Nathaniel Joceline and Richard Joceline. Witnesses: Thomas Luncher and George Solme. Proved 6 February 1655 [1655/6] by Symon Joceline, son of the testator and the executor named in the will. (P. C. C., Berkley, 54.)

The Will of RALPH JOSSELIN of Cranham Hall, co. Essex, yeoman, 27 November 1656. To my daughter Dorothy £100 owing to me by Mr. Ford, minister of Great Warely, upon bond, she paying £20 to my daughter Grace, and my said daughters Grace and Dorothy paying between them to my nephew Ralph Jocelin, minister of Earles Colne, £6 as testimony of my love to him, Dorothy paying £4. 16s. and Grace £1. 4s. I bequeath all my bills, rents, goods [etc.], to my daughter Elizabeth, provided she shall not marry without the consent of Dorothy and Grace and of my cousin Ralph Josselin. My executors shall take into their hands the money and goods given to Elizabeth and allow her the yearly profits thereof, and upon her marriage lay it out in lands, and settle them upon her and her heirs for ever. And if she marry without said consent, then my executors shall allow to her and her children at their discretion the yearly profits of aforesaid goods, and dispose of the principal estate to her children who shall best deserve the same. If said Elizabeth die without heirs or before marriage, the goods shall be equally divided between Grace and Dorothy, provided they pay my said cousin Ralph Josselin £20. Executors: Ralph Josselyn and my daughters Grace and Dorothy. Witnesses: Richard Joslin and Ann Hampson.

Nuncupative cedula, 21 March 1656 [1656/7]. To Grace Johnson, my daughter, wife of Robert Johnson, £20 now in the hands of Captain [ ] Straey. Witnesses: Martyn Curtis and Ann Howard. (P. C. C., Ruthen, 511.) Proved 23 December 1657 by Ralph Josselin, cousin and sole executor. (P. C. C., Probate Act Book, 1657.)

The Will of RALPH JOSELIN of Earles Colne, co. Essex, clerk, 1 June 1683. To my only wifc Jane, the wife of my youth, my freehold land called Springs Marsh and my copyhold land called Stulps for life, with reversion at her decease to my daughter Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Gilbert Smith of the parish of St. Martins in the Fields [London], colourman. Also to my wife for life Stonebridge meadow, being freehold, together with the bridge to be made. To my wife for her better maintenance all her wearing apparel, the silver and gold I have given her, certain furniture, brass, plate, pewter, iron, steel, linen, and all things needful to furnish three or four rooms in my said mansion. To my daughter Mistress Mary Josselin, the wife of Mr. Edward Day of Great St. Martins in the Fields [London], £100; and to her and her heirs my freehold tenement on Colne Green wherein I now dwell, with the orchard, barns, stables, and all other buildings thereto belonging, containing half an acre, the copyhold lands called Upper Coes, containing 20 acres, abutting on the tenement of one Mole, now in the occupation of Henry Wiseman, the Green, the road leading off Colne Green towards Colne Engine, Lower Coes, lands called Bayleys, belonging to Robert Harris, and land belonging to Mr. Sibley. A quitrent of 20s. yearly to be paid to the lords of the manor of Colne Pryory. If my said daughter Mary die without issue, the said property to Mr. Edward Day for life. If they have issue and desire to sell the property, they shall offer it to my heirs for a sum not exceeding £400. To my daughter Mistress Jane Woodthorpe £40. To my wife Jane my two lower broom fields called Lower Coes, abutting on lands belonging to one Prucknett and lands which I bought of Mr. Fletcher in Colne. To my daughters Mistress Elizabeth Smith and Mistress Rebecca Spicer 10s. apiece to buy them rings. My wife to be executrix, and to have my stock and corn. To my only son John Josselin all my lands unbequeathed, from the 29th of September next after my decease, together with Inhams Herne lays and love land that I bought of Mr. Fletcher and his wife, on condition that he suffer his mother to lay in what corn and hay she pleases in the boarded barn and one end of the barn at Fishers, and dispose of the cattle and corn growing on my lands until the said date. This condition being performed, his mother shall give to him [ ] Heston, my six horses, and the young stone colt, and all the household waggons, ploughs, tumbrells, and appurtenances. My library as it stands I leave to one or two of my grandchildren who shall first enter the ministry. My household goods I leave to my executrix's pleasure, to be divided into five parts to be chosen by them* according to their ages. Witnesses: Jo: Ludgater, Rt Potter, and Humphrey Rugels. Proved 5 November 1683 by the executrix. (Archdeaconry of Colchester [Somerset House], Register Collin, fo. 144.)

FROM CHANCERY PROCEEDINGS***

30 April 1646. Complaint of DANIEL HUDSON of Epping, co. Essex, clothier, and RICHARD JOSLYN of the same, yeoman, executors of the will of Joseph Joslyn, deceased, brother of said Richard Joslyn, that one Thomas Joslyn, uncle of Richard and Joseph Joslyn, about thirty-five years ago made his will, and made his wife his sole executrix; and about four or five years after making his will said Thomas Joslyn died, and his widow proved the will, wherein said Thomas bequeathed to said Joseph Joslyn, deceased, a certain sum of money, which by the death of his sister Dorothy amounted to £15, to be paid to him at his age of twenty-one years. The widow, before Joseph Joslyn attained the age of twenty-one, paid said sum to Ralph Joslyn, father of said Joseph and Richard Joslyn and brother of Thomas Joslyn, and said Ralph held said £15 all his life, notwithstanding that Joseph Joslyn attained the age of twenty-one more than twenty-four years ago. Said Ralph and his brother Simon purchased to themselves and their heirs a messuage called Bollinghatch, with appurtenances, lying in Roxwell, Newland Fee, and Writtle, valued at £70 per annum, Simon afterwards relinquishing his share to Ralph and his heirs. Said Ralph, having this estate and also corn and cattle to the value of £400, made his will on 1 August 1626, appointing his younger sons, Ralph Joslyn of Cranham, co. Essex, and Symon Joslyn of East Hanvill, co. Essex, executors. Said Ralph Joslyn the father died about fifteen years ago, and the will was proved by said executors. In said will Ralph Joslyn bequeathed £200 to said Richard Joslyn in recompence of £15 given him by the will of said Thomas Joslyn, to be paid within one year after the deaths of his wife and his brother Simon Joslyn; and he appointed that in default of payment Richard Joslyn should have a piece of land called Highfield, containing twenty acres, parcel of said farm, to him and his heirs for ever. Also said Ralph Joslyn by said will gave to his son Joseph Joslyn £160 in recompence of £15 given him by the will of said Thomas Joslyn, to be paid within two years after the deaths of his wife and his brother Simon Joslyn; and he appointed that in default of payment Joseph Joslyn should have wood and land called Woodfield, Spicercroft, and Bollinghatch Grove, and a part of Mottshold, next the lane leading to Fambridge End, to be divided by the path leading through the same from Woodfield to Fulchers, parcel of said farm, to Joseph and his heirs for ever. Said Ralph made his sons his residuary legatees and executors, whereby they held said farm called Bollinghatch and lands in Newland, Roxwell, and Writtle, co. Essex, on the conditions aforesaid. Said Ralph the father died about four years after making his will, and said Ralph and Simon proved said will and entered into said premises, taking the rents and profits of said farm, etc., and they have divided the same between themselves. Ralph took the land devised to your orator, Richard Joslyn, and his heirs for the better securing of said £200, and has since paid to complainant said £200; and Simon took the land devised to Joseph and his heirs for the better securing of said £160, and has agreed in writing with Ralph to pay the same. Dorothy Joslyn, the mother, died about — years ago, and Simon, brother of the testator, survived her and died two years and a quarter ago. About November 1642 said Joseph Joslyn made his will, appointing your orator his executor, and died in December last p<sup>r</sup>t, bequeathing to his brother Richard Joslyn, your orator, £10 of said £200, to his brother Nathaniel Joslyn £40 of said £160, to his brother-in-law Daniel Hudson £20 of said £160, to his sister Anne, wife of said Daniel Hudson, £5 of said £160 and also £15 given him by his uncle Thomas Joslyn, to his cousin Mary, wife of Thomas Gill, £20 of said £160, to the four children of his brother-in-law Daniel Hudson, namely, Daniel, Simon, William, and Elizabeth, £5 apiece of said £160, to Dorothy and Anne, daughters of his eldest brother John Joslyn, 40s. apiece of said £160, to Mary, daughter of said John, 20s. of said £160, and to John Owting of Cranham £8 of said £160. And he desired that, if said Simon did not pay the same, your orators, Richard Joslyn and Daniel Hudson, should enter into the lands aforesaid and pay said legacies out of the same; and he made them his residuary legatees and executors. The residue was so small that it was not sufficient to bury him, much less to pay his debts. After probate of the will was taken on 20 February last past, two years having elapsed since the death of Simon Joslyn the uncle, your orators have repeatedly demanded the £160 from Simon Joslyn the brother and Ralph Joslyn, who are both chargeable to pay the same, but in vain; and said Simon, having got said lands into his possession, has made great waste of the same. Your orators therefore pray that a writ of subpoena may be directed to said Simon Joslyn and Ralph Joslyn, directing them to appear in court and show cause why they should not pay the £160 or give up the lands.

* Printed for the Public Record Office, London.

22 May 1646. Answer of SIMON JOSCELIN, one of the defendants to the bill of complaint of Daniel Hudson and Richard Joslyn. He agrees with the bill as to the wills of Thomas Joslyn and Ralph Joslyn, but says that Ralph Joslyn his father and Simon Joslyn his uncle bought the said farm of Beiling-hatch and lands jointly, and that it became his uncle Simon's by right of survivorship. His father Ralph Joslyn died possessed of a personal estate of £300, and the inventory of his goods overvalued his goods and comprised many desperate debts, so that he and his brother Ralph had paid more in legacies than their father had died possessed of. And after their father's death, by permission of their uncle Simon, the surviving joint tenant, Ralph and the defendant Simon entered into the lands and made a partition thereof, and paid their mother Dorothy £20 a year during her life and their uncle Simon Joslyn £25 a year during his life. But said Simon denies that he ever undertook to pay said money to said Joseph or that he is liable to pay the same to the complainants, Joseph having died before the same was due; and he alleges that Joseph had therefore no power to dispose of the same. Complainant is willing to stand trial concerning the same at the common law. He denies ever making any waste of the property. (Chancery Proceedings, Charles J. Bills and Answers, Bundle H. 1, no. 8.)

26 November 1646. Complaint of DANIEL HUDSON of Epping, co. Essex, clothier, and RICHARD JOSLYN of the same, yeoman. [Complaint opens as in the former suit.] Simon Joscelyn, brother of the complainant, being asked for the money due to Joseph Joscelyn, now deceased, refuses to pay, sometimes affirming that their father, Ralph Joscelyn, was not solely seised of said premises, but was jointly seised with Simon his brother, although he well knows that their uncle Simon gave his brother Ralph, their father, a full and clear release of the premises, and that after Ralph's death, Simon, complainant's brother, and his brother Ralph, by fine and recovery or both of them and by indentures thereupon made and sealed by them, settled by mutual consent for the payment of said money. Your orator, Richard Joscelyn, begs that his brothers Ralph and Simon may set forth the annual value of the lands, one year with another, and alleges that his father left few debts and much personal estate. Said Simon of late has contrived and set on foot another title to said lands unto one Ralph Joslyn, clerk,* son and

* This Ralph Joslyn, clerk, was nephew of the complainant Richard and of the deft. brothers Simon and Ralph, and was the writer of the diary from which extracts are given below. In the pedigree that follows the records he is numbered 27, iii.

heir of John Joslyn, son and heir of said testator Ralph, as heir at law to the lands by the death of said Joseph, and has offered to give him £100 for his title to the lands; and Ralph, the nephew, now affirms that he has the best rights to the lands and will spend large sums of money in suits for the recovery thereof. Complainants beg that Ralph, the nephew, may set forth what title he has to said lands and show cause why the complainants should not be paid said £160, and that subpoena may be directed to said Simon Joslyn and Ralph Joslyn, as executors of their father's will, and also to Ralph Joslyn, their nephew, son and heir of John Joslyn, deceased, to appear before the Court of Chancery to answer unto said premises. (Chancery Proceedings, Charles I, Bills and Answers, Biddle H. 72, no. 45.)

FROM CHANCERY DEPOSITIONS*

9 May 1622. Mr. Scot: We, Ralfe Joslin thelder of Roxwell, co. Essex, and John Benton, husband of Mary, late widow of Thomas Searle late of Northweald Basset in said county and daughter of me the said Ralfe, do consent and yield to the dismission of the cause of me the said Ralfe and my said daughter Mary against Samuel Searle, Clerk, and do yield up unto said Samuel all the deeds, writings, and evidences that are at this time in the custody of the officer at the Rolls. [Signed] The mark of Rad. Josselin and John Benton. Witness: Thomas Burton of Stapleford Tawney, yeoman. (Chancery Depositions, Elizabeth—Charles I, 1622.)

FROM FEET OF FINES*

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Morrow of the Feast of St. John the Baptist, 5 Henry VIII [25 June 1513], between John Josselyn Esquire, Thomas Josselyn Esquire, John Colt Esquire, and William Barley Esquire, querents, and George Josselyn Esquire, deforciant, of the manor of Hydehall: four messuages, four hundred acres of land, forty acres of meadow, one hundred acres of pasture, and twenty acres of wood in Sabricheworth and Little Halyngbury in co. Herts, and of sixty acres of land, ten acres of meadow, and ten acres of pasture in Little Halyngbury in co. Essex. Plea of covenant. George has acknowledged the manor and tenements to be the right of John Josselyn, and has granted for himself and his heirs the manor and tenements which Katherine Josselyn holds for life of the heirs of the aforesaid George the day on which this concord was made, and which after the death of Katherine ought to revert to George and his heirs; but after the death of Katherine they shall remain wholly to John, Thomas, John, and William, and the heirs of John Josselyn, to hold of the chief lords of that fee by the services which to the manor and tenements belong for ever. And George and his heirs will warrant to John, Thomas, John, and William, and the heirs of John Josselyn the manor and tenements against all men for ever. And for this John, Thomas, John, and William have given to George 100 marks.† (Feet of Fines, Hertford-Essex, Trinity Term, 5 Henry VIII, 51/360, no. 6.)

Final Concord made in the Queen's Court at Westminster on the Morrow of the Feast of the Ascension, 15 Elizabeth [1 May 1573], and afterwards on the Morrow of the Feast of the Holy Trinity, 15 Elizabeth [18 May 1573], between John Josselyn, querent, and William Water, gent., deforciant, of one messuage, one garden, one orchard, one hundred and forty acres of land, ten acres of meadow, ten acres of pasture, and ten acres of wood, with appurtenances, in Roxwell and Newlonde, called Bolinghatch. Plea of covenant. William has acknowledged the aforesaid premises with appurtenances to be the right of John, as those which John has of the gift of William, and he has quitclaimed them from himself and his heirs to John and his heirs, for ever. And, moreover, William has granted for himself and his heirs that he will warrant to John and his heirs the aforesaid premises against William and his heirs for ever.* (Feet of Fines, Essex, Easter Term, 15 Elizabeth.)

FROM INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM†

Writ of Mandamus, dated at Westminster 27 February, 22 Elizabeth [1579/80].

Inquisition indented, taken at Stratford Langherne, co. Essex, 9 May, 22 Elizabeth [1580], before Thomas Grynsdytche esq., escheator, after the death of JOHN JOSSELYN of Roxewell, county aforesaid, yeoman, deceased, by the oath of Thomas Spyke, Thomas Pollarde, Richard Moyle, Thomas Hunte, Nicholas Awgar, William Mortimer, Martin Brewster, Richard Stanes, William Maples, William Browne, John Jefferye, Thomas Stoddarde, John Francke, and Anthony Brooke, who say that John Josselyn long before his death was seised in his demesne as of fee of and in one messuage or tenement in Roxewell called Scarles and of and in all lands, meadows, feedings, and pastures to the same belonging, and of and in one messuage or tenement in Roxewell within the hainlet of Newlande called Bollynghtche, with all lands, meadows, feedings, pastures, and other hereditaments to the same belonging, and of and in certain parcels of land called Thystell downes lying and being in the parishes of Skellowbowells and Willingalle. And that John Josselyn, so thereof being seised of such his estate, died thereof scised 20 February last past before the taking of this inquisition, and that Thomas Josselyn is his son and next heir and was aged at the time of the death of John thirty years and more. And they further say that the messuage or tenement called Scarles and the other premises to the same belonging are held of the Queen in chief by the hundredth part of one knight's fee, and that they are worth by the year beyond reprises £6. 3s. 4d. And that one little grove and a parcel of land, parcel of the messuage called Bollynghatche, is held of the manor of Fambridge Ende in free socage by fealty and rent of 2s. yearly. And that the residue of the messuage or farm and other premises called Bollynghatche are held of Edward Elliott esq. and Jane his wife as of their manor of Newland Haull, in free socage by fealty and suit of court and by the rent of 4s., and that it is worth by the year beyond reprises £9. 10s. And the parcels of land called Thisteldownes are worth 40s. yearly, and are held of Henry Josselyn esq. and —— his wife as of their manor of Torrells Haulle, in free socage by fealty and rent of 4s. yearly. And that John Josselyn at the time of his death neither had nor held any other or more lands or tenements in demesne, reversion, or service in the county aforesaid, besides that which is above named. Delivered into Court 10 July, 22 Elizabeth [1580].* (Inquisitions Post Mortem, Chancery Series 2, vol. 189, no. 43.)

[Great antiquity has been claimed for the Josselyn or Jocelyn family.* Lodge, in his Peerage of Ireland, vol. 3, p. 259, of the revised edition of 1789, asserts that "the family derives its descent from Carolus Magnus, King of France, with more certainty than the houses of Loraine or Guise, who so highly boast of it." In vol. 1 of the Visitations of Essex (Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. 13) three Josselyn pedigrees are given, one of which, in the Visitation of 1612, begins with Gilbertus Joselinus, who is called by Lodge, loc. cit., Sir Gilbert Jocelyne, and is said to have accompanied William the Conqueror in his expedition to England, while the other two, in the Visitations of 1558 and 1612 respectively, begin with James Josselyn of Essex, gentleman, who according to the pedigree mentioned above was fourth in descent from the Gilbert who came with the Conqueror. Pedigrees of some of the later generations are found in the Visitation of Essex of 1634 (Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. 13, p. 430), in the Visitations of Hertfordshire, pp. 14, 69 (ib., vol. 22), and in the Visitation of London, vol. 2, p. 22 (ib., vol. 17).

From these pedigrees in the Visitations, corrected and expanded from other statements in manuscripts or printed books,† from the records given in the preceding part of this article, from other English records hereinafter mentioned, and from various records in New England, it has been possible to compile the following pedigree of the Josselyn family and to show the descent of the Josselyns of New England from the founder of the family in England in the days of the Conqueror. No attempt, however, has been made in this article to give the genealogy of the family prior to the Norman Conquest or to separate truth from falsehood in what is alleged to be the earlier history of the Josselyns on the Continent.‡

* Among the numerous forms of the name are Joceline, Jocelyn, Josceline, Joslin, Joslyne, Josselin, and Josselyn.

† Among the printed books consulted, in addition to the Publications of the Harleian Society mentioned above, are Rose Graham's St. Gilbert of Sempringham and the Gilbertines, Newman's Lives of the English Saints, E. G. S. Teilly's Historical Anecdotes (published in 1839 for the Earl of Roden, a Jocelyn by birth), Morant's History of Essex, Chauncy's Antiquities of Hertfordshire, the Victoria County History of Hertfordshire, Hasted's History of Kent, Beaven's Aldermen of London, Crisp's Visitation of England and Wales, Notes, vol. 4, Newcourt's Repertorium, Cambridge Matriculations, Weaver's Ancient Funeral Monuments of Great Britaine, Ireland and the Islands Adjacent, and various volumes of British Archives, published by the British Government.

‡ The arms of Josselyn, as given in the Visitation of London, 1633-4 (Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. 17, p. 22) are: Quarterly of eight. 1. Azure, a circular wreath argent and sable, with four hawk's bells affixed thereto in quadrangle or. [Josselyn.] 2. Argent, a dancetty rampant sable, ducally crowned or. [Josselyn.] 3. Azure, a fess or. [Chastelain.] 4. Gules, a griffin segreant within a bordure engrailed or. [Battell.] 5. Gules, an escutcheon argent within an orle of martlets or. [Enfield.] 6. Gules, on a sulyce engrailed five terteaux of the field, a chief ermine. [Hide.]

1. SIR GILBERT<sup>1</sup> JOCELYN, a wealthy Norman knight, came into England, it is said, with the Conqueror, and married the daughter of a Saxon thine. He settled in Lincolnshire, where he held of Gilbert of Gaunt the lordships of Sempringham and Tyrrinton.*

Children:

- i. GILBERT,<sup>2</sup> b. at Sempringham, co. Lincoln, in 1083 or 1089; d. 4 Feb. 1189; bur. in his abbey church at Sempringham, between the altars of St. Mary and St. Andrew. He was educated in France, and, returning to Sempringham, devoted himself to works of charity, and instructed in religion and literature the young people of the neighborhood. He became a priest, and held the livings of Sempringham and Tyrrinton. He was clerk to the Bishop of Lincoln, but refused to accept the office of Archdeacon of Lincoln. He founded at Sempringham an order for monks and nuns which was later known as the Gilbertine Order. Many miracles are said to have been wrought for those who prayed at his tomb, and in 1202 he was canonized by Pope Innocent III as St. Gilbert of Sempringham, 4 Feb. being his commemoration day.†
2. ii. GEOFFREY, b. abt. 1091.
2. GEOFFREY<sup>2</sup> JOCELYN, born about 1091, inherited his father's lands, his elder brother having taken holy orders. He married ——— DE BISSET, daughter of John.
Child:
3. i. WILLIAM,<sup>3</sup> heir of his father.
3. WILLIAM<sup>3</sup> JOCELYN married OSWALDA GOUSHALL, daughter of Sir Robert, Knight.

4. ROBERT<sup>4</sup> JOCELYN married ——— FLEMING, daughter of John.
Child:
5. i. JAMES,<sup>5</sup> heir of his father.
5. JAMES<sup>5</sup> JOCELYN, of co. Essex, married JOAN THRECKENHOLM or TURROCKINGHOLDEN, daughter of Henry.
Child:
6. i. HENRY,<sup>6</sup> heir of his father.

7. Argent, three escutcheons, two and one, gules. [Patmer.] 8. Gules, three chevrons argent. [Bawde.] On fess point a crescent for difference. Crest of Jesselyn: A falcon's leg belled or, the thigh erased gules

These arms were allowed or confirmed at the Visitation of London, 1333-4, to Thomas Joscelyne of London, gentleman, 1634, and the pedigree accompanying the arms shows the descent of this Thomas from John<sup>12</sup> Joscelyn (18). (Vide infra, 18, iii, 1.) In 1900 pedigrees of descendants from the last-mentioned Thomas (of London, 1634) were recorded at the College of Arms, and the arms and quarterings described above were again allowed to various descendants from him, but the arms of Hide were placed in the fourth quarter, those of Battell in the fifth quarter, and those of Eufield in the sixth quarter. (Cf. Crisp's Visitation of England and Wales, Notes, vol. 4, pp. 22-29.)

* According to Lodge, Peerage of Ireland, vol. 3, p. 259 (revised edition of 1759). Sir Gilbert Joscelyn was son of Egidius Joscelyn, a nobleman of Brittany, who crossed into England in the reign of Edward the Confessor, about 1045. The son, Sir Gilbert, born apparently in England, went into Normandy and returned to England with the Conqueror. Evidence to prove these statements seems to be lacking.—Entron.

† Cf. Post Graham's St. Gilbert of Sempringham and the Gilbertines. Miss Graham thinks that the name given to St. Gilbert is probably a corruption of "Giles," and that the Latin word "giles" (old) having been gradually transformed into "giles" (s.x.) "A life of St. Gilbert" was written by a monk of the order of St. Gilbert at St. Albans, c. 1150-1200. Cf. also Dictionary of National Biography.

Herts, Knight, by his wife Elizabeth (Sudiey), who was daughter of John, Lord Sudley, of co. Gloucester.|| Maud (Hide) Jocelyn survived her husband, and married secondly Nicholas de Villiers. By the marriage of Thomas Jocelyn with Maud Hide the manor of the Hide, or Hide Hall, as it was later called, passed into the possession of the Josselyn family, who held it for almost six hundred and fifty years, until, in 1897, it passed by will to Sophia, widow of the fifth Earl of Roden, a nobleman who had died without male issue. A charter of "Thomas son of John" is still preserved in the family.

He married first ALICE LISTON, daughter of William; and secondly JOAN BLOUNT, daughter of John. Joan (Blount) Jocelyn survived her husband, and married secondly, about 1285, —— de la Le; and as Joan de la Le, late wife of Thomas Josselyn the Elder, she released, by deed undated but enrolled in Trinity Term, 13 Edward I [May-June 1285], her rights of dower in her late husband's lands to Adam de Stratton, clerk, during the minority of the heirs of Thomas, son of Thomas Jocelyn.¶ She married thirdly Thomas Marshall.

11. RALPH<sup>11</sup> JOCELYN, of Hide Hall, Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and of the manor of Shellow-Bowels* in the parish of Willingale-Doe, co. Essex, born at Shellow-Bowels 13 Dec. 1275, died after 1312-13 and before 1323. He married first ANNE SANDYS, eldest daughter of William; and secondly MAUD SUTTON, daughter of Sir John,† Knight, who married secondly Roger de Berners and died in 1354-5.

Ralph Jocelyn succeeded his brother Thomas about 1284, and had livery of his father's lands in Oct. 1297,‡ having proved his age.§ In his deposition on this occasion Ralph de Merk of Roothing, co. Essex, aged forty years, stated that Ralph Jocelyn, son of Thomas, was twenty-one years of age on the Feast of St. Lucy the Virgin previous, that he was born at Shellow and was baptized in the parish church of Willingale-Doe on the fourth day after his birth, and that he, the deponent, held him at the font and gave him his name.

Ralph Jocelyn held court at Shellow-Bowels in 1298. On 8 Oct. 1302 he held one and a half knight's fees in Shellow and Sawbridgeworth.|| In 1309 he was a commissioner to collect a tax in Hertfordshire, for the war with Scotland.¶ He was living 24 Feb. 1312/13.**

12. JEFFREY<sup>12</sup> JOCELYN, of Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and of the manor of Shellow-Bowels or Shellow-Jocelyn in Willingale-Doe, co. Essex, died between 1360 and 1373. He married MARGARET TORRELL, daughter of Robert. On 28 Dec. 1338 he leased the manor of Shellow-Jocelyn to Robert le Marshall of Northweld and Margery his wife during their lives, subject to a rent charge of £6 a year during the life of his (Jeffrey's) mother. This manor passed out of the Josselyn family into the possession of the Torrell family, being called Torrell's Hall or Shellow-Torrell; but it came again into the possession of the Josselyns some two hundred years later (vide infra, 23).

13. RALPH<sup>13</sup> JOCELYN, of Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, succeeded to his father's lands not later than 1373 and died about 1383. He married MARGARET DE PATMER, daughter and heiress or coheiress of John, this John de Patmer being son of John and Sara de Patmer and grandson of Philip de Patmer of Patmer Hall and his wife, who was daughter and heiress of John Bawde of Somerby, co. Lincoln.||| In 1373 Ralph Jocelyn held half a knight's fee in Sawbridgeworth.

* There is also a parish in co. Essex called Shellow-Bowels.

Suffolk, contains a fine, old, stained-glass window representing Sir Robert Clifford, his wife Elizabeth, and her first husband, Sir Ralph Jocelyn. Sir Ralph is first of record in 1433, as of Aspenden, being mentioned as one able to spend £10, perhaps in anticipation of a royal loan. He was a member of the Company of Drapers of London, was elected alderman from Cornhill Ward 29 Nov. 1456, was master of the Company of Drapers in 1457-8, sheriff in 1458-9, auditor in 1464, lord mayor in 1464-5, and was created a Knight of the Bath by Edward IV at the coronation of his queen, Elizabeth Woodville, 24 May 1465. He was a member of Parliament for London in 1467, and was again elected lord mayor in 1476.¶ In his mayoralty Sir Ralph had the wall of London repaired between Aldgate and Aldersgate and the Fleet Ditch cleaned. He also corrected the abuses of the bakers ‡ Calendar of Patent Rolls, 1391-1396, p. 494 (published by the British Government).

§ Hitherto all writers have agreed in assigning to Sir Ralph Jocelyn but two wives, Philippa and Elizabeth; but Geoffrey Chittock, citizen and draper of London, in his will dated 16 July 1478, endows a chantry in the church of St. Swithin, London Stone, and directs that the chantry priest shall pray for the souls of Thomas Aylesby, late draper of London, John and Joan, parents of the said Thomas, Ralph Jocelyn, Knight, alderman and draper, Margery and Phillip, late wives of the said Ralph, and Elizabeth, his present wife [and others], this endowment being made at the instance and request of the said Ralph. (Wills in the Court of Hustings, vol. I, p. 581.) Perhaps Margery, first wife of Sir Ralph Jocelyn, was identical with the Margery, widow of Thomas Aylesby, with whom and with others, executors of the will of the said Thomas, Sir Ralph Jocelyn, in 1441 and 1456 sued the creditors of the estate of the said Thomas. (Calendar of the Patent Rolls, 1441-1456, pp. 217, 387.) Or perhaps Margery, the first wife of Sir Ralph, is a daughter of Thomas Aylesby.

and victuallers. In 1471, in the Wars of the Roses, when the Kentish levies under Thomas Neville, the Bastard of Fauconbridge, attacked Bishopsgate and Aldgate, London, in an attempt to rescue Henry VI from his imprisonment in the Tower, Sir Ralph raised forces and, sallying forth, defeated Neville and his men. From the point of view of public service he was certainly the most prominent man of the family. He was bur. in St. Swithin's Church, London, of which he was a benefactor, in "a fair tomb," which was destroyed in the Great Fire in 1666.* A memorial brass, no longer in existence, was erected to his memory in the church at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, bearing the following inscription: "Orate pro anima Radulphi Joslyne quondam militis et bis Maioratus Civitatis London qui obiit xxv. Octob. M. cccc. lxxviii."† Because of this brass some writers have stated that he was bur. in the Sawbridgeworth church. The inquisition post mortem on his estate shows that he died seized of the manors of Lynchade and Southeote in co. Bucks; the manor of Chadewell in Chadewell, Thurrock, East Tilbury, and West Tilbury, the manor of Bursted, and lands and tenements in West Ham, all in co. Essex; and the manor of Aspenden Hall in the parishes of Buntingford, Layston, Throcking, Wyddial, Wakeley, and West-mill, and the manor of Austey, all in co. Herts; and that his heir was George Josselyn, aged 50 years and more at the death of the said Ralph, s. of his brother Thomas.‡

15. THOMAS<sup>15</sup> JOSELYN (Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, died before 1478. He married, about 1426, ALICE DUKE, daughter of Lewis of Dukes, co. Essex, by his wife Anna, daughter and heiress of John Cotton, Esq.

‡ Inquisitions Post Mortem, Edward IV, file 66, no. 28. Sir Henry Chauney, in his Historical Antiquities of Hertfordshire, published in 1700, makes a mistake which has been repeated by all later biographers of Sir Ralph Jocelyn. This is his statement that Sir Ralph had a son Richard, of Fiddlers in Writtle, co. Essex, whose daughter Beatrice married John Browne. According to the Visitation of Essex of 1612 (Publications of the Harleian Society, vol. 13, p. 163) John Browne married Beatrice, daughter to Richard Josselyn of Fiddlers in county Essex, son and heir to "Alderman Josselyn whoc lyeth buried at St. Mary at Hill." (A later hand, perhaps Chauney's, has changed the place of burial to St. Swithin's, London Stone.) Now this statement, as it stood originally, was correct. Richard Gosselyn, ironmonger and alderman of London, in his will dated 20 Apr. 1428, requests that his body be buried in the church of St. Mary at Hill and mentions his wife Beatrice and, among other children, his son Richard. (Wills in the Court of Hustings, vol. 1, p. 463.) He is obviously not identical with Sir Ralph Jocelyn, nor did he belong to the family with which this article is concerned. Moreover, the inquisition post mortem, mentioned above, states that the heir of Sir Ralph was George Josselyn, son of Ralph's brother Thomas.

§ As has been stated above (p. 239, footnote), Katherine, daughter of Thomas, Lord Bray, may have been the wife of Jeffrey (16) rather than the wife of his father (14).

|| Wœver's Ancient Funeral Monuments of Great Britaine, Ireland and the Islands Adjacent, p. 530. Some authorities say that the reading in the inscription is "xx Januar," not "ii Januar." This brass has been wrongly ascribed to the father of this man, Jeffrey Jocelyn (14).

17. GEORGE<sup>16</sup> JOSSELYN (Thomas<sup>15</sup>, Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and of Sheering, co. 1530, daughter of William and Jane (FitzWilliams) Bradbury of Littlebury and Wicken-Bonhunt, co. Essex,* and widow of John Barley of Stapleford-Abbots, co. Essex.

John Josselyn bought of his nephew, George Josselyn (17, i, 1), the ancestral estate of Hide Hall in 1513.† Besides the two estates above mentioned he had others in High Roding, Great Dunmow, Aythorpe-Roding, Tillingham, King's Hatfield or Hatfield-Bread-Oak, Shellow-Bowels, Great Waltham, Little Haltingbury, Little Canfield, and Much or Great Canfield, all in co. Essex. He and his wife were buried in the priory of King's Hatfield, and in the chancel of the ancestral church in Sawbridgeworth was erected a stately tomb, with recumbent figures (carved in stone but now much defaced) of him and his wife Philippa. Above is a marble tablet, bearing the inscription: "Heare Lyeth John Jocelyn Esqr., and Philippa his wife which John Dyed Ao Dom 1525." It seems probable that, when the priory at King's Hatfield was destroyed at the dissolution of the monasteries in 1538, their bodies were removed to Sawbridgeworth.

Children by first wife:‡

- i. PHILIP,<sup>18</sup> d. young.
- ii. NICHOLAS, b. in 1498; d. between Feb. 1503/4 and 1524.

- 20. RALPH<sup>17</sup> JOSSELYN (John,<sup>16</sup> Jeffrey,<sup>15</sup> Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Much or Great Canfield, co. Essex, the testator of 1525, born about 1475, died after 30 May 1525. He married ELIZABETH CORNISH, daughter and coheiress of William, who survived him, and, with her daughter Agnes, was a legatee in the will of Philippa Josselyn, widow of John (19) of High Roding, co. Essex, dated 15 Oct. 1530. Ralph Josselyn was heir in reversion to the lands of this John of High Roding, his second cousin, in case of the death of John's sons and nephews without male issue. He was taxed on goods valued at £26 in 1523/4 and 1524-5; and his widow was taxed on lands valued at 40s. a year from 1542 to 1546, after which no record of her has been found. He probably held his lands in Great Canfield of John Josselyn (19).

Children:

- i. AGNES,<sup>18</sup> b. abt. 1499; d. after 1558; m. SIR JOHN WISEMAN of Canfield, co. Essex, Knight, who d. 17 Aug. 1558, s. of William and Mary (Glasecock). He was one of the auditors to King Henry VIII, and bought Great Caufield Park, with lands lying in Great and Little Canfield, Takeley, and King's Hatfield (or Hatfield-Bread-Oak), co. Essex. He and his wife are buried in the church of Great Canfield. Children: 1. John, m. Margery Waldegrave, dau. of Sir William of co. Suffolk, Knight; four children. 2. William, d. s.p. 3. 21. SIR THOMAS<sup>13</sup> JOSSELYN (John,<sup>17</sup> George,<sup>16</sup> Thomas,<sup>15</sup> Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and of Newhall Josselyn in High Roding, co. Essex, Knight, the testator of 1561, was born about 1507, being eighteen years of age at the time of his father's death,† and died 24 Oct. 1562. He married, in 1524, DOROTHY GATES, the testatrix of 1579, who died before 11 Feb. 1582/3, daughter of Sir Jeffrey of High Roding, co. Essex, Knight, by his wife Elizabeth Clopton, daughter of Sir William of Kentwell, co. Suffolk, Knight. Sir John Gates, Knight, brother of Dorothy (Gates) Josselyn, was captain of the Guard of Edward VI, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and a member of the Privy Council. Sir Thomas, after the suppression of the monasteries, bought of Henry VIII, 28 Apr. 1540, the manor of Cowickbury in Sheering, co. Essex, for £314. 4s. 4d. This he sold in 1556. In 1540 he received from the King a grant of the manor of Bromeshbury in Hatfield-Broad-Osk, co. Essex. He bought the manor of High Roding in 1553-4. He also had lands in Aythorpe-Roding and Canfield, co. Essex, and in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, he had the ancestral estate of Hide Hall. He was created Knight of the Bath at the coronation of Edward VI., 20 Feb. 1547/8. He and his wife lie buried in the Sawbridgeworth church.

Children:

He matriculated at Queen's College, Cambridge, in the autumn of 1545, took his degree of B.A. in 1548/9, was made a fellow of his college in 1549, and took his degree of M.A. in 1552. He was lecturer in Latin at Queen's in 1551–2, lecturer in Greek in 1551–2 and in 1555–6, dean of philosophy in 1552, and bursar in 1555–1557. He resigned his fellowship in 1557, and in 1558 became Latin secretary to Archbishop Parker, under whose direction he collected the material for "De Antiquitate Britannicae Ecclesiae," published by that prelate in 1572. He was one of the earliest students of Anglo-Saxon, and in conjunction with the Archbishop's son, John, compiled an Anglo-Saxon and Latin Dictionary. He also wrote the "Lives of the Archbishops" and the "History of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge." In 1560 the Archbishop made him a prebend of Hereford Cathedral, an office which he resigned in 1577, when the Archbishop gave him the living of Hollingbourne, co. Kent. In his will he bequeathed £100 for the founding of a Hebrew lectureship at Queen's College, and placed on record his dislike of the Church of Rome.¶

24. JOHN<sup>19</sup> JOSELYN (Ralph,<sup>13</sup> Ralph,<sup>17</sup> John,<sup>16</sup> Jeffrey,<sup>15</sup> Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Fyfield, Chignal-Smealy, and Roxwell, co. Essex, born about 1525, was buried at Roxwell 18 Feb. 1578/9. He married at Fyfield, 15 Jan. 1544/5, ALICE NEVELL, widow, probably the Widow Joslin who was buried at Roxwell 31 Jan. 1600/1.

John Josselyn is first of record at Fyfield, where he lived for a year and a half, at least, after his marriage. Between 16 June 1543, when he is taxed at Fyfield, and 20 Apr. 1547, when he is taxed at Chignal-Smealy, he moved to the latter parish, six miles northeast from Fyfield, although one of his children was later baptized in the latter place, probably having been born there while her mother was visiting relatives. At some time between 1551/2 and 1561 he moved to Roxwell, which lies between Fyfield and Chignal-Smealy, and there he lived the rest of his life. A glance at the map of Essex shows how close to the old ancestral seats of the family this branch of it remained. Fyfield is six miles from Great Canfield, seven miles from Newhall Josselyn in High Roding (both parishes being in co. Essex), five miles from Hide Hall in Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and two miles from Torrell's Hall, anciently called Shellow-Jocelyn, in Willingale-Doe, co. Essex. Roxwell is six miles from Newhall Josselyn, ten miles from Hide Hall, two miles from Torrell's Hall, seven miles from Great Canfield, and five miles from Fyfield. By a fine dated 1 and 18 May 1573 John Josselyn acquired of William Water the property called Bollington in Newland hamlet in the parish of Roxwell, consisting of a house, den, orchard, one hundred and forty acres of land, ten acres of meadow, ten acres of pasture, and ten acres of wood. This property, now called Boldinghatch, lies about two miles northeast from the church at Roxwell and about half a mile from Good Easter, co. Essex, where in the next generation a kinsman of John Josselyn, Rev. Jeffrey Josslyn,* held the living for fifty years. John Josselyn held Bollinghatch of the manor of Newland Hall, the lord of the manor, Edward Elliot, being a connection by marriage, his daughter Elizabeth having married Thomas Young, third cousin of John Josselyn.† At the time of his death John Josselyn also held of the Queen a house and land called Searles in Roxwell, with other land in Roxwell held of the manor of Farnbridge End and land called Thistledowns in Shallow-Bowels and Willingale-Doe held of Henry Josselyn (23) as of his manor of Torrell's Hall.

* This Puritan clergyman is called "kinsman" in the will of Thomas Josselyn (24, ii), but the relationship between the two men is not quite clear. The clergyman may possibly have been the son Jeffrey mentioned in the will of Simon, son of Ralph (22), or he may have been one of the descendants of Jeffrey, son of John (18). If he was the son of Simon, who was the Jeffrey Josslyn to whom Thomas (24, ii) remitted a debt in his will? Rev. Jeffrey Josslyn entered Jesus College, Cambridge, at Easter 1571, was made B.A. in 1574/5 and M.A. in 1578, was vicar of Shallow-Bowels, 1581-1585, and of Good Easter, 1585-1635, both in co. Essex, and died in 1635.

25. SIR THOMAS<sup>20</sup> JOSELYN (Henry,<sup>19</sup> Sir Thomas,<sup>18</sup> John,<sup>17</sup> George,<sup>16</sup> Thomas,<sup>15</sup> Jeffrey<sup>14</sup>), of Torrell's Hall in Willingale-Doe, co. Essex, Knight, was born about 1567.* The date of his death has not been discovered. He married first, at Hatfield-Broad-Oak, co. Essex, in Apr. 1589, DOROTHY (FRANK) SCOTT, who died 17 May 1602, daughter of John and Cicely Frank of Hatfield-Broad-Oak and widow of George Scott, by whom she had two daughters; and secondly, about 1603, THEODORA (COOKE) BERE, who was buried at Bexley, co. Kent, 13 Aug. 1635, daughter of Edmund Cooke of Lesnes Abbey, Erith, and Mount Maseall, Bexley, co. Kent, by his wife Elizabeth (daughter and coheiress of John Nichols), and widow of Clement Bere of Dartford, co. Kent, by whom she had two sons and a daughter. The first marriage of Sir Thomas took place two months after the death of his wife's first husband, in her father's house, during the absence of her parents,† by a strange minister, contrary to the law of the Church, which made it obligatory for the couple to be married in the parish church of one of the parties, by the vicar or rector thereof, or by licensee. Because of these circumstances both bride and groom were excommunicated, and the sentence of excommunication was not removed until 15 Oct. 1590.‡ Sir Thomas was knighted by King James I on 11 May 1603. He lived at Torrell's Hall in Willingale-Doe, co. Essex, at Littleport in the Isle of Ely, co. Cambridge, in 1622, and probably also on his second wife's property in co. Kent. He was appointed by Sir Ferdinando Gorges deputy-governor of all his possessions in New England, and sailed to New England in the ship Nicholas, arriving at Black Point, in what is now the State of Maine, 14 July 1638.§ He returned to England before 3 September 1639.

|| Fearing that she would not survive her child's birth (she lived only nine days thereafter), Elizabeth (Brooke) Josselyn wrote a touching letter to her unborn child, in which she gently but earnestly exhorted her son or daughter to piety and good conduct. To this was prefixed a letter to her husband, giving him sensible advice on bringing up the child. In 1624 these letters were published under the title: The Mother's Legacy to her Urborne Childe, and other editions followed. Cf. Dictionary of National Biography.

Henry Josselyn was a student at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, in 1623. He was sent by Capt. John Mason to New England, where he arrived as early as 1634. By 1638 he had settled at Black Point. In 1636 he was appointed by Sir Ferdinando Gorges steward-general, and in 1645 became deputy-governor of Maine. He took the oath of allegiance to the Massachusetts Bay government in 1658, and in 1661 was appointed by King Charles II one of the commissioners to have charge of the Province. Owing to the Indian raids he moved from Black Point to Pemaquid, Me. He is not known to have had any children.<sup>f</sup>

He sailed with his father for New England in the ship Nicholas, alias the New Supply, arriving in July 1628, visited his brother Henry at Black Point, and returned to England in Oct. 1639. He made the voyage to New England again in 1663, staying with his brother until Dec. 1671, when he went back * In Feb. 1622/3 Benjamin and Edward, sons of Sir Thomas Josselyn by his wife Dorothy Frank, sued the executor of their uncle, Peter Frank, for a bequest left to them, being two of the nine children of said Dorothy. They stated that they came of age "about a month ago," and therefore they were born about Jan. 1601/2. (Chancery Proceedings, James I, Bundle I, 2, no. 13.) The date 19 May 1602 is given in the introduction by Professor Tuckerman to his edition of John Josselyn's New-England's Rarities Discovered, published in Boston in 1865, but, if their mother died 17 May 1602, this can hardly be correct.

He married first ANNE ——, who was buried at Bishops-Stortford 29 Nov. 1624; and secondly, about 1630, HELEN ——, who survived him. His father gave him lands valued at £800, including Chalk End, which still exists as a name in Roxwell, but these he sold, and moved about 1619 to Bishops-Stortford, where he was a maltster. About 1631 he moved to Bumpstead, where he engaged in farming and lost the rest of his estate.

preached at Cranham, co. Essex, the home of his uncle Ralph, and taught school at Upminster, co. Essex, from Nov. 1610 to Mar. 1640/1, and was then presented to the living of Earl's Colne by Richard Harlakenden of the Priory, Earl's Colne.* This living he retained until his death, being also for part of the time master of the grammar school there. His diary, which he seems to have begun in 1641, contains much that is interesting.† He mentions the death of the son of his cousin Abraham (28, ii) and later the visit of Abraham to England. The letters which he tells of writing to New England were probably to his uncle Thomas (23) and to his cousins there. He made various collections for New England and for the education of the Indians there. Like the rest of the family, he was a Puritan; but he managed to escape the penalties for refusing to wear the surplice until near the end of his life, when he records that he wore the surplice, "which I see no sin in to use." During the Civil War he was chaplain to Col. William Harlakenden's regiment, preached the assize sermon at Chelmsford, co. Essex, in 1646, and in 1652 and 1659/60 preached at St. Paul's Cathedral by request of the lord mayor of London. The executions of Archbishop Laud and King Charles, the siege of Colchester, the Great Plague, and the Great Fire of London are also mentioned by him. He was involved in a lawsuit with his uncles over a portion of the ancestral property at Roxwell, which he finally obtained by a compromise and by the payment of £100.‡ One of his parishioners left him her lands, and by careful business dealings he amassed a considerable estate, so that he was able to give to his daughters generous portions on their marriages. Essex, and Barham, co. Suffolk, England, and of Hingham and Lancaster, Mass., probably born at Roxwell late in 1591, died at Lancaster 3 Jan. 1660/1. He married, in England, about 1615, REBECCA ——, who survived him and married secondly, at Lancaster, 16 May 1664, William Kerley of Lancaster. She evidently died before her second husband, as in the will of the latter, dated 26 July 1669 and proved 19 July 1670, she is not mentioned.

Thomas Joslin, as he spelled the name, probably received his portion of his father's estate at the time of his marriage, as his father, in his will of 1626, bequeathed to him only £5. As the baptisms of his children are not recorded in the parish registers of Roxwell, it is certain that he was not living there when his children were born. He was of Barham, co. Suffolk, just before his emigration to New England, and his daughter Mary was baptized at Barham 16 Mar. 1633/4. In Apr. 1635 he embarked for New England in the Increase of London, the passenger list containing the names of Tho: Jostlin, Husbandman, aged 43, Rebecca his wife, aged 43, Eliza: Ward, a maid servant, aged 38, and the following children of the said Tho: Jostlin: Rebecca, aged 18, Dorothy, aged 11, Nathaniell, aged 8, Eliza, aged 6, and Mary, aged 1.* On his arrival in New England he settled in Hingham, where he was a proprietor and town elect, and bought land of his son-in-law Thomas Nichols in 1638. He and his son Nathaniel sold their lands at Hingham 11 Mar. 1652/3 to George Lane and Moses Collier, and removed to Lancaster, where Thomas signed the civil compact 12 Nov. 1654. In his will, dated 9 May 1669 and proved 2 Apr. 1671, he appoints his wife Rebecca executrix, and mentions his sons Abraham and Nathaniel, grandson Abraham (son of Abraham), and daughters Rebecca Nichols, wife of Thomas, Mary Sumner, wife of Roger, and Elizabeth "Emons."

It has been supposed by some writers that the kinship between Thomas Joslin or Josselyn and the more noted Henry Josselyn and John Josselyn of Maine was very close, one writer representing Thomas as the elder half brother of Henry and John.† Although this kinship was a somewhat distant one, in old historic families like the Josselyns the ties of blood were strong, and as Torrell's Hall, the ancestral home of Henry and John, was but a mile from Bollinghatek in Roxwell, where Thomas Joslin passed his youth, it seems certain that they were well known to one another. It also seems probable that, having no children of his own to inherit his property, Henry Josselyn induced his kinsman Thomas to send to him his eldest son Abraham, intending to make him his heir. Abraham certainly went to Scarborough, Me., and lived there for seven years. Whether he quarreled with his kinsman or tired of the wilderness is not clear, but he returned to his relatives in Lancaster. He died several years before his kinsman Henry, and it is not known what disposition was made of the property of the latter.

† In 1886 Mr. William M. Sargent communicated to the REGISTER (vol. 40, p. 293) the conjecture of a member of the Josselyn family of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, Eng., that Thomas Josselyn, son of Ralph [26] of Roxwell, co. Essex, was identical with the Thomas Josselyn who emigrated to New England in 1635. This conjecture, however, was at that time unsupported by proof, and the member of the family who made it admitted also that he could not trace "the origin of this branch of the Josselyn family, nor its connection, if any, with the Torrel's Hall branch."

first at Hingham, Mass., and when his parents and brother moved to Lancaster, Mass., he moved to Black Point or Scarborough, Me., where his kinsman Henry Josselyn was living. About 1650 he sold his property in Scarborough, which included a hill referred to in deeds as Abraham Josselyn's "great hill," and removed to Boston about 1660. By 1663 he had rejoined the rest of the family at Lancaster, which was his residence until his death. In his will he mentions his wife, his eldest son Abraham, and his son Henry, whom he desires to be good to his brothers and to take one of them to learn his trade. Children: 1. A son<sup>23</sup> (perhaps by an earlier marriage), d. before 1 Sept. 1644. 2. Abraham, bapt. at Hingham 8 May 1649; killed by Indians in the attack on Lancaster, 10 Feb. 1675/6, aged 26 years; m. at Lancaster, 29 Nov. 1672, Ann Hudson, b. at Lancaster 1 Jan. 1618/9, dau. of Daniel, Sr.;* she and her two-year-old dau. Beatrice, her only child, were carried into captivity by the Indians after the attack on Lancaster, and both were subsequently killed. 3. Philip, bapt. at Hingham 15 Dec. 1650; d. in Boston 2 Aug. 1652. 4. Henry, blacksmith, b., probably at Scarborough, abt. 1652; d. at Hanover, Mass., 29 Oct. 1730; m. at Scituate in the Plymouth Colony, 4 Nov. 1676, Abigail Stockbridge, b. at Charlestown, Mass., 24 Feb. 1660/1, d. 15 July 1743, dau. of Dea. Charles and Abigail (Pierce); perhaps he was left behind at Scarborough with Henry Josselyn, the kinsman for whom he was named, when his parents returned to Massachusetts in 1659, for he is said to have moved to Scituate from Scarborough in 1693; fourteen children. 5. Rebecca, b., probably at Scarborough, between 1654 and 1658; d. in Mar. 1712/13; m. (1) John Crowham of Boston, who d. in 1678; m. (2) in 1679 Thomas Harris of Boston, butcher; m. (now Little Compton, R. I.), 26 Jun. 1693/4, when he joined with his brothers, Henry of Scituate, blacksmith, and Joseph of Hingham, miller, in quitclaiming to their brother-in-law, Thomas Harris, all their rights in land at Lancaster; perhaps he or his son was the Thomas Josling who was made freeman of Kingstown, R. I., in 1722. 7. Nathaniel, b. in Boston 4 July 1660; d. probably at Lancaster, 8 June 1667.† 8. Joseph, of Hingham, Bridgewater, and Abington, Mass., miller, b. at Lancaster 23 July 1653; d. at Abington, Mass., 5 Sept. 1726; m. (1) 17 Mar. 1686/7 Hannah Farrow, b. at Hingham 8 Dec. 1667, dau. of John and Mary (Hilliard); m. (2) at Bridgewater, Mass., 5 Mat. 1701/2, Sarah Ford, b. at Weymouth, Mass., 28 May 1672, d. at Abington 3 Dec. 1731, dau. of Andrew and Eleanor; he was captured by Indians in the attack on Lancaster in Feb. 1675/6, in which his brother Abraham was killed, and with his sister-in-law and little niece was carried into captivity, but he was released.

* Middlesex (Mass.) Court Files.

† The Middlesex (Mass.) court records give this death as that of Nathaniel son of "Nath. Josline," but this is obviously an error. Nathaniel Josselyn (28, iv) had a son Nathaniel, who was born 21 June 1655 and died 5 Mar. 1726/7, and he could not have been identical with the boy Nathaniel who died 8 June 1667. If it is conjectured that the Nathaniel who was born 21 June 1655 did die 8 June 1667, and that his parents named a younger son, who lived until 1726/7, Nathaniel, then this younger Nathaniel, born probably at least a year after 8 June 1667 (unless he were twin with the daughter Elizabeth, who was born 7 June 1667), would be too young to marry Esther Morse on 8 Feb. 1682/3. Yet it is certain that the Nathaniel who married Esther Morse was son of Nathaniel (28, iv) and Sarah (King), for in 1703/4 Nathaniel and Esther sell land formerly belonging to their grandfather Thomas King. It seems, therefore, clear that it was Nathaniel son of Abraham who died 8 June 1667, especially as there is no other record of him after his birth record and as he does not appear with his brothers in the quitclaim documents of 1693/4 (cide supra, 28, ii, 6).

by some friendly Indians, who took him to Norwich, Conn., 30 May 1676; three children by first wife and four children by second wife. 9. Mary, b. at Lancaster 14 Dec. 1666.

iii. DOROTHY, b. abt. 1623; brought by her parents to New England in 1635; d. unm. at Roxbury, Mass., 2 Dec. 1645. She entered the service of Gov. Thomas Dudley of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, with whom she remained until her death.

iv. NATHANIEL, b. abt. 1626; brought by his parents to New England in 1635; d. at Marlborough, Mass., 8 Apr. 1694; m. in 1656 SARAH KING, who d. at Marlborough 2 July 1706, dau. of Thomas and Anne. On 11 Mar. 1652/3 he joined with his father in a sale of their lands at Hingham, Mass., and then moved with his parents to Lancaster, Mass. He took the freeman's oath at Lancaster 8 Oct. 1672. After the massacre by the Indians there in 1675/6 he moved to Marlborough, where he spent the remainder of his life. Children, the first six b. at Lancaster: 1. ### FOUR GENERATIONS OF DESCENDANTS OF JONATHAN HYDE OF NEWTON, MASS.

By Hon. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON STOWELL of Amherst, Mass.

1. SERGT. JONATHAN<sup>1</sup> HYDE, younger brother of Dea. Samuel Hyde, whose descendants for four generations form the subject of an article in the REGISTER of April 1917,* was born, probably in England, about 1626,† and died intestate at Newton, Mass., 5 Oct. 1711, aged 85. In Apr. 1639 he embarked in the ship Jonathan, bound from London for Boston, his elder brother Samuel crossing the Atlantic in the same ship with him, and in 1647 he settled at Cambridge Village (now Newton), Mass.‡ He married first MARY FRENCH, born in England about 1633, died at Cambridge 27 May 1672, aged 39, daughter of Lieut. William and Elizabeth of Billericay; and secondly, at Cambridge, 8 Jan. 1673/4, MARY REDIAT, born probably at Sudbury about 1650, died at Newton 5 Sept. 1708, daughter of John and Ann (Dolt) of Marlborough.

With his brother Samuel he bought 40 acres of land in 1647 from Thomas Danforth and 200 acres in 1652 from the heirs of Nathaniel Sparhawk. This land was held in common by the two brothers until 3 May 1661, when it was divided between them. (Middlesex Deeds, vol. 3, fo. 321.) He and his first wife, Mary, were received into full communion in the church 8 Jan. 1661/2, and he was admitted as a freeman 27 May 1663. He made a marriage contract with John Rediat, the father of his second wife, 2 Jan. 1673/4. (Ib., vol. 6, fo. 169.) In 1691 he was selectman of Newton. On 7 Mar. 1707

[?1707/8] he conveyed land to his son-in-law John Osland and the latter's wife Sarah. On 7 Dec. 1710, less than a year before his death, he conveyed lands in Newton to his children John, Samuel, Daniel, Joseph, and Jonathan Hides, and to the widow and children of Ichabod Hides. † In the Vital Records of Cambridge (printed) the birth record of a Samuel Hide, son of Jonathan and Mary, born 24 May 1652, is given; but this seems to be another record of the birth of the Samuel (twin) who was born 23 May 1653.

‡ There has been much controversy about the parentage of Mary, wife of Eleazar Williams; but the deeds of which brief abstracts are given below prove that there were two Eleazars, each with a wife Mary, and show which Eleazar Williams married Mary Hide.
